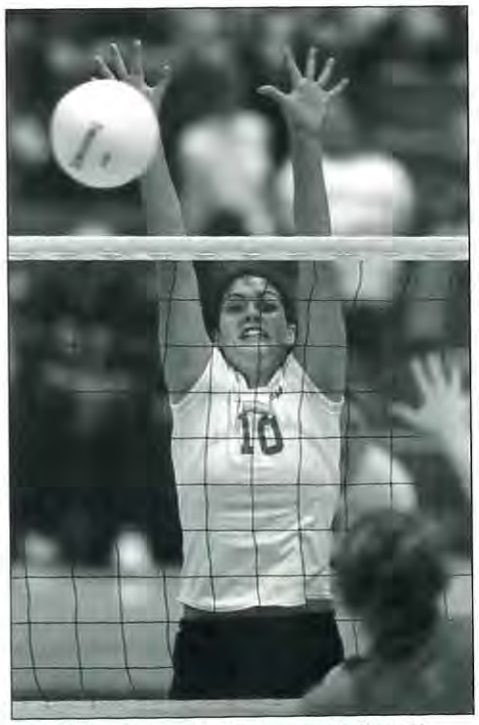
2002 Season Outlook

Utes favored to conquer the Mountain West, have eyes set on another NCAA run.

One cannot look ahead to Utah volleyball's 2002 season without first reflecting at the monumental run of a year ago. The 2001 Utes posted their sixth consecutive winning season, going 25-7 overall and 11-3 in conference play, and captured the Mountain West Tournament Championship for the first time. Utah also made its inaugural trip to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament and went 15-0 at Crimson Court to record its first-ever undefeated home season.

Now, the Utes hope to use last season's success as a springboard, catapulting them to even greater heights in 2002. The person responsible for taking the program to its unprecedented level is 13th-year Head Coach Beth Launiere, who is optimistic Utah can continue its climb in national prominence. "We're picked to win the conference for the first time ever and have a talented group of athletes to help us do that," says Launiere. "It's going to be exciting to experience the upcoming season."

The Utes' goals for 2002 begin with expanding their NCAA resume, which already includes four straight appearances. Also on the checklist for Utah is winning its first regular-season MWC title and advancing one round further in the NCAAs. "We put ourselves out on a limb by saying we wanted to make it to the Sweet 16 last year," tells Launiere. "This year we are the team to beat in the conference and know an Elite Eight appearance is a possibility.



Senior Sylva Strzinková led the league with 15 double-doubles in 2001 and was named all-conference.

Utah's big guns return from last season in Kim Turner and Sylva Strzinková. Turner, a 2001 honorable mention All-American and two-time all-conference honoree, led the Utes with 1.50 blocks per game and a .346 hitting efficiency. Strzinková also garnered all-MWC honors after leading the league in double-doubles.

Launiere plans to use a 5-1 offensive scheme more often this season over the 6-2 look of a year ago. The reason behind the move is the experience level of sophomore setter Kelsie Kartchner, who now has a season under her belt. Kartchner split time at setter last season with Jackie Morrill, but will be looked upon to handle the position alone this year.

Meanwhile, Morrill will be asked to perform other duties, moving to the NCAA's newly designated libero position. Wearing a different uniform than the rest of the team, the libero cannot serve, but may rotate in and out of the rotation without limitations.

Despite having a roster brimming with talent, Launiere knows she has big shoes to fill from last year's team. Among the losses to graduation from the Sweet 16 Utes are McKelle Stilson, Alisa Geddes, Adrianne Bradley-Drake and Lenka Urbanova. Another key loss is Katrena Ellet, who elected to serve an LDS Church mission rather than return for her senior season. "Katrena dominated the energy of the team, she will be missed," says Launiere.

Stilson wrapped up her four-year career as Utah's career leader in blocks (497) and block assists (449), and ranked third in kills (1,283). Geddes played all around for Utah and was the team's leading server. She also finished with nine double-doubles in league play. Bradley-Drake, who was named the to the MWC all-tournament team, also played all around for the Utes.

"I think the biggest question we have with the new team is our ball control," admits Launiere. "We lost Alisa, Adrianne and Lenka in that aspect. Aside from that, I think we have a lot of talent to fill in around Kim (Turner) and Sylva (Strzinková). We also have leadership with the two of them and Brenda Beal and Jackie (Morrill) returning."

Below is a position by position break-down of the 2002 Utes.

Outside Hitters

The senior Strzinková will lead the outside hitters. "I think Sylva is going to have an even better season than she did last year," says Launiere. "She is in great physical shape and has the ability to dominate this year. We are going to increase her offensive responsibilities and allow her to use her abilities to hit different sets." Strzinková led the Utes in 2001 with a 3.47 kills per game average and was second with 37 service aces.

As good as Strzinková is, Launiere is not hesitant to say that the rest of the group compares very favorably. Redshirt Shelly Hundley spent last season learning the Utah system and is expected to make an immediate impact. "It is unbelievable to me that Shelly is just a freshman eligibility wise," claims Launiere. "I think she is eventually going to be one of the best outside hitters in this program. We will look to play her whenever and wherever we can because of her tremendous offensive abilities." Hundley brings her 6-1 frame to the Utes, and possesses physical power and good passing skills.

Britt Whiting redshirted the 2001 season after transferring from Gonzaga and will also flip-flop between the middle and right side. "Britt has collegiate experience and reminds me of McKelle (Stilson) because she hits the slide very well. She is amazingly quick and brings an entire game to the floor," says Launiere.

Sophomore Sabine Schulz joins the Utes from Deggendorf, Germany, where she was one of the country's top players. "Sabine hits the ball very well and has wonderful ball control," says Launiere. "She knows and understands the game very well, and is very physical. Sabine's best asset is that she is able to play a lot of positions."

Danielle Leichliter has a 5-11 frame and is possibly the player that will replace Geddes. "We are very excited to have Danielle in the program," tells Launiere. "She has good defensive and passing skills and can tool the block. Danielle plays a lot outdoor volleyball and brings that style of play to the table."

Middle Blockers

The play in the middle is expected be centered around Turner. The junior needs just 331 kills to join a select group of seven other Utes in the 1,000 kills club. This season will be the first where Turner plays all around. "I don't think people realize how good of a passer Kim really is," admits Launiere. Since Turner is such a key player for the Utes, she could be moved to outside hitter on occasion. "We are going to be a better team if we get the ball to Kim more. She has proven to be a leader and has always shown the bigger the match, the bigger she plays. Kim has developed into a significant player nationally and is ready to lead this team."

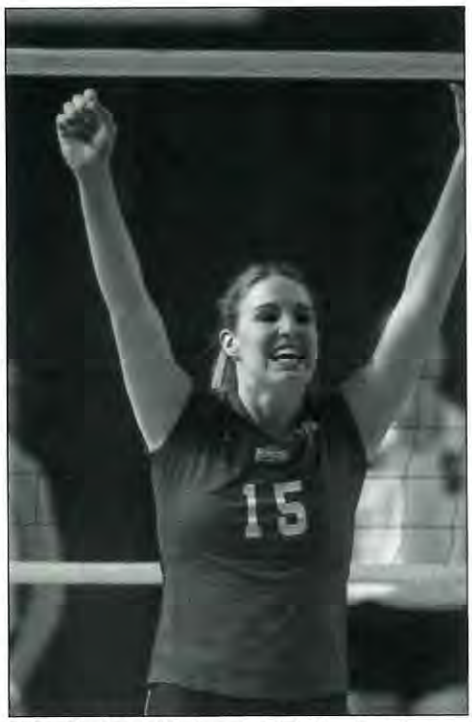
Senior Brenda Beal is likely to split her playing time between middle blocker and opposite hitter. "Brenda has played on and off throughout her career despite not being a starter," says Launiere. "She has experience, and is ready to have a great senior season and to make a difference on the court for us."

Amie Toone is expected to redshirt the upcoming season to learn the Utah system. "Amie's athleticism is excellent. She hasn't played a lot of volleyball, but should develop into a great player for us down the road," underscores Launiere.



Junior Kim Turner has been named to the all-conference first team in both of her years at Utah. Last season, she was also named an honorable mention All-American.

Setters

The 5-10 Kartchner could handle a lot of the setting responsibilities this year. "Kelsie gained invaluable experience last season by setting for a top-20 team as a freshman," admits Launiere. "She handled the pressure very well and learned so much. I believe she is ready to handle the task being the quarterback on the floor."

Tracy Neumeier saw some playing time as a freshman last fall and had a great spring practice. "I am expecting Tracy to compete for the starting setter position. She is very talented and has a great personality on the court. I know she'll be ready to go as a starter or backup," says Launiere.

Brooke Webster will redshirt the 2002 season. "Brooke is a very exciting athlete," says Launiere. "She is very strong and has great leadership skills. The coaching staff is excited about her future in the program."

Liberos

Morrill, a junior, will guide the defense at the libero position. "I think Jackie will be one of the top liberos in the country," boasts Launiere. "The libero is possibly the most important position on the court because this person passes every rotation. It will be different for Jackie because she'll be playing more than just the three rotations, as she did last season at the setter position. Playing libero will allow her the opportunity to show how great of a volleyball player she is."

Junior Taryn Horner should see time at the libero and defensive specialist spots. "Taryn is becoming an awfully good defensive player. She worked very hard during the off-season and is in great physical condition," says Launiere.

Schedule

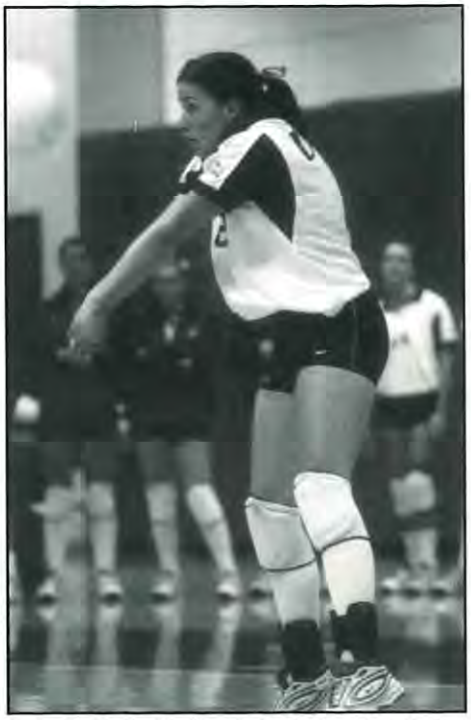
In the preseason polls, the Utes were ranked No. 11 by Volleyball Magazine and No. 13 in the USA Today/AVCA Top 25 Poll. "The rankings are a reflection of what this program has done over the past couple of years," says Launiere. "Now if we want to push the ranking and become a top-10 team, we have to prove we can beat the top-10 teams. This is the toughest schedule we've faced because it includes several national caliber teams and competitive conference foes."

Based on the USA Today/AVCA preseason poll, Utah will face seven Top 25 teams this season. Among the battles is a rematch with defending NCAA champion Stanford, which beat the Utes in the regional semifinals last season. The majority of the matches against ranked opponents take place at Crimson Court, including confrontations with nonconference foes Hawaii, Arizona, Pacific and Illinois, and Mountain West rivals BYU and Colorado State. Utah opens the season by hosting No. 12 Pacific, New Hampshire and Murray State in the Utah Classic, Aug. 30-31.

The following weekend Utah travels to Palo Alto, Calif., for the Stanford Tournament. The field includes No. 1 Stanford, Cal Poly and San Jose State. "That is going to be a tough tournament," admits Launiere. "We aren't even thinking about Stanford because we have to get through San Jose State and Cal Poly first. Both are very good teams."

The Utes open conference play against UNLV on Sept. 27 in Las Vegas, Nev. "This league is very interesting," says Launiere. "We return quite a bit of experience and talent, but so does UNLV and San Diego State. In fact, both teams return almost all of last year's starters. BYU and Colorado State lost a lot of experience, but are always competitive on the conference and national level. It will be exciting to see if UNLV and San Diego State can break into the league's top three, which has been us, BYU and Colorado State in recent years." Utah made its mark on the national scene in 2002 by knocking off several outstanding teams and advancing to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Can the Utes take their success a step further this season?

"It is amazing the number of coaches and media who now know about Utah volleyball. Advancing to the next level helped build our image as a national contender, and now people don't hesitate to put us with the top teams," says Launiere. "Reaching the Sweet 16 brought a real sense of accomplishment. Now I'm anxious to see what this team can do as a follow up."



Junior Jackie Morrill will guide the Utes' passing attack at the libero position. Last season, Morrill split time at setter.

"It's been 12 years of incredible growth and accomplishment, both personally and for the program. The U. administration supports Utah volleyball at a level that allows us to be successful."

Beth Launiere

Head Coach • 13th Season

Beth Launiere, entering her 13th season, has guided Utah volleyball to unprecedented success.

The winningest coach in school history, Launiere has overseen a significant transformation since her arrival in 1990. In the last eight years alone, Launiere has guided the Utes to seven 20-win seasons—including six in a row. Utah's second-place finish in the MWC in 2001 was the highest in school history and its ninth consecutive upper division finish in conference play. Launiere has posted a 228-153 (.598) career record in 12 seasons at the U.

After leading Utah to its first league tournament title and its maiden trip to the NCAA Sweet 16, Beth Launiere was named 2001 Tachikara/AVCA Division I West Region Coach of the Year. The Utes tied the school record for wins by going 25-7 and set the mark for winning percentage (.781). Utah also went 11-3 in conference play for a second-place finish and was a perfect 15-0 at Crimson Court, posting the first undefeated home season in school history. Utah won the 2001 Mountain West Conference Tournament Championship, upsetting regular season conference champion and No. 1 seed Colorado State in a thrilling five-game victory (32-34, 19-30, 30-23, 30-27, 15-8) on Nov. 17 in Provo, Utah.

Utah received its fourth-straight NCAA Tournament berth; but this time, the road to the Sweet 16 went through Salt Lake City. The Utes seeded No. 14 nationally, defeated Texas Tech in three games (30-24, 31-29, 30-23) in the first round and knocked off Utah State in four games (30-21, 30-18, 26-30, 30-22) to get their first-ever second round win. The Utes lost in the regional semifinals in the four games (30-17, 30-17, 28-30, 30-19) to Stanford, the eventual national champion. Utah was the only team in the NCAA Tournament to take a game from the Cardinal.

Starting off the 2000 season on a good note, the Utes checked in with 59 votes in the preseason poll. With a 23-8 overall record, the Utes' .742 overall winning percentage was the second-best in school history. The 2000 squad was the only team in school history to beat a No. 1 ranked opponent with a come-from-behind five-game victory over Stanford at Crimson Court. With the win over Stanford and two more wins the next weekend, Utah earned its first-ever national ranking. The Utes came in 18th in the USA Today/AVCA Top 25 poll released on Sept. 12. Launiere recorded her 200th career victory at the MWC Tournament with a four-game win over UNLV on Nov. 16.

The Utes went for 20 wins in 1999, going 22-10 overall and 10-4 in debut season of Mountain West. Utah advanced to the second round of the NCAAs for the second-consecutive year.

In many ways, 1998 was an important milestone in Launiere's tenure on The Hill. The Utes made it to the second round in their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. Launiere was later honored with the U.'s Don Reddish Coach of the Year award. Utah posted a 21-10 record against a schedule featuring nine teams that made the NCAA Tournament. Utah also placed third in the WAC Pacific Division, going 9-5. For the third year in a row, Utah advanced to the quarterfinals of the WAC Tournament. The Utes also set the school single-season record for attendance by averaging 652 fans over 10 home contests, breaking the former best average mark by nearly 70 fans.

In 1997, Launiere's Utes put up the third-best winning percentage in school history (.710) by going 22-9. Utah finished WAC play with a 9-5 mark to place fourth in the Mountain Division. In a season full of highlights, the Utes tied the longest winning streak in the school annals with 11 wins from Sept. 6 through Oct. 2. Utah also equaled its best start to the WAC season, winning its first three matches and going 5-2 through the first half of the league schedule.

Launiere surpassed the 100-career victory plateau in 1996 with a three-game win over Utah State on Sept. 20. The Utes went 20-12 overall in 1996 and amassed the most wins ever as a WAC member with a 10-6 record to place third in the Mountain Division.

The '95 Utes placed fourth in the WAC with a 7-7 mark. Included in a 3-0 start to the conference season was a shutout of No. 16 Brigham Young, which marked Utah's first defeat of a nationally ranked opponent in a decade.

To fully appreciate what Launiere has accomplished, one must reflect on where she began. The season prior to Launiere's arrival, Utah compiled a 1-32 record. In her first season at the helm in 1990, Launiere coached the Utes to six more wins than were recorded the previous year, and instilled a new competitive attitude in the program. The instantaneous improvement enabled Launiere to elevate the level of play and bring excitement and fan support back to Utah volleyball.

In Launiere's second season, Utah more than doubled its win total again, going 15-20. In only her third season, she won 18 games—the first winning season in seven years—and opened the door to many of the milestones since reached.

The 1993 Utes produced a very successful campaign, going 25-11 and placing fourth in the WAC. Utah also earned its first postseason berth, placing third in the NIVC. Both the Utes as a team, and senior Mikki Kane-Barton, led the nation in blocks—a first for any WAC team.

In 1994, Launiere won her 81st career match at Utah and became the winningest coach in school history. The Utes were invited to participate in the NIVC for a second-consecutive year, but declined the invitation.

Most of the biggest names in Utah volleyball have played for Launiere. Brenda Barton-Whicker (1994-97) was the first player in school history to be named an AVCA District VII All-American in '95. She finished her career as Utah's all-time leader in kills, attempts, digs and service aces. Graciela Torres-Lopez (1996-99) took over as the Utes' all-time leader in career assists at the end of the 1998 season. Sara Shakula (1995-98) is second all-time in kills.

Former assistant coach Linda Byington (1990-91) is Utah's all-time leader in hitting efficiency. Mikki Kane-Barton (1992-93) is third all-time in blocks at the U. Katie Tagge (1993-95), ranks third on the all-time assists chart.

McKelle Stilson (1998-01) finished her career last season third in all-time hitting efficiency, first in block assists, fourth in total blocks and third in kills. Launiere's latest prodigy, junior Kim Turner, enters the season first in hitting efficiency, seventh in block assists and eighth in total blocks.

Launiere gained coaching experience on the international level in the summer of 1996, taking the USA All-Star Team on a two week tour of England. The team, consisting of 14-17 year-old girls, was sponsored by the USA Volleyball Youth Developmental Program. Launiere has also been a member of the AVCA All-America Committee.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native spent two successful seasons (1988-89) as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois. The Fightin' Illini went to two NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the 1988 Final Four and posted a 57-12 record during Launiere's stay.

As an assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, Launiere helped guide the Bulldogs to three postseason appearances and a berth in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere is a 1985 graduate of Aquinas College (Mich.), where she earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics. She also has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

The 39-year-old Launiere is the fifth coach in the 27-year history of Utah volleyball and has a tenure longer than any of her predecessors.

Matt McShane

Assistant Coach • 2nd Season

First assistant Matt McShane is in his second season at the U. and has compiled an extensive coaching and playing background over the years. McShane has established an impressive reputation in the volleyball arena.

Before joining the Utes, McShane was an associate head coach at New Mexico from 1987-2000. In 11 successful years in Albuquerque, he guide helped the Lobos to a 189-127 record, an 81-63 conference record, two conference championships and six trips to the NCAA Tournament.

This past summer, McShane was the head coach for the USA National A2 program in May and June. McShane worked with the group of college players selected to be a part of the next U.S. National team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo., before taking it to the Pan American Cup tournament in Tijuana. McShane also worked with the Intermountain Region High Performance Junior Team as an assistant coach. The team of area high schoolers played in Salt Lake City in July.

In the summer of 2001, McShane was the head coach for the 2001 Intermountain Volleyball Association (IVA) High Performance Team that toured Europe.

In 1996, McShane was named an assistant coach of the USA Women's National Team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo. While with the U.S. National team, McShane designed and ran practice sessions, did video analysis of the U.S. team and the major teams in the world, and prepared scouting reports on U.S. opponents. Travel with the national team included competitions throughout Asia, Europe, and the Caribbean.

McShane's coaching background includes assisting Chinese national "Jenny" Lang Ping with the Yaohan International Volleyball Team in 1996. The team was comprised of the best American and Russian players who competed against the Chinese and Cuban National teams in cities throughout China. He was also an assistant coach at Brigham Young University from 1980-1982.

McShane is a member of the USAV Coaches Accreditation Program Cadre (CAP Level III). Each year he does numerous clinics throughout the U.S., teaching other college, high school and junior coaches the fundamentals of volleyball.

As an undergraduate at UC Santa Barbara, McShane played on the only intercollegiate team to win the USAV Open National Championship. The UCSB teams finished second in the NCAA Championships in 1974 and '75, and finished third in the NCAA Regional Championships in 1976. He was named All-America in 1974 for the Gauchos.

McShane received his B.A. from UCSB in 1974 and his master's degree from BYU in 1982. While at BYU, he played on the men's club team that finished third at USAV Open National Championship in 1981. In his spare time McShane enjoys skiing, golf and reading.

Lucie Turková

Assistant Coach • 2nd Season

An active player and coach from the Czech Republic, Lucie Turková begins her first season as a full-time assistant coach at the University of Utah.

In addition to on-court instruction, Turková's primary duties include videotape editing, compilation of statistics, team development, practice planning and assisting in the Utes' overseas recruiting efforts.

Turková, who served as a student-assistant coach at the U., last fall, has also worked at numerous summer camps and clinics, and officiates in her spare time. As both a player and coach, Turková has been to four consecutive NCAA Tournaments with the Utes.

Turková received her bachelor's degree in parks, recreation and tourism from the University of Utah in May of 2002. She played for the U. from 1997-2000 and was a two-time all-conference selection. Turková was named to the Verizon Academic All-District VIII Women's Volleyball Team and was an academic all-MWC selection in 2000. She received all-tournament team honors at the 2000 University of New Hampshire tourney.

Turková left her mark on Utah's all-time career leaders' list. She graduated ranking fourth in matches played (124), fifth in games played (439) and assists (1,792), eighth in service aces (104) and tenth in digs (871).

The 24-year-old Turková resides in Salt Lake City and enjoys traveling, cooking and outdoor activities.

Scott Keister

Volunteer Assistant • 1st Season

Scott Keister, program director of Intermountain USA Volleyball, enters his first year as a volunteer assistant coach with the Utes. As director, Keister has helped oversee the Girl's Junior Olympic Volleyball Championships held in Sandy, Utah in 2002 and '01. This past summer Intermountain USA Volleyball hosted the Volley Classic in Park City, Utah. The Classic is considered a high performance pipeline between USA Volleyball region teams. Keister also helped organize the 2002 Girl's Youth NORCECA Championships.

Keister has served as a high performance coach for Intermountain USA Volleyball since 2000 and also serves as the coach for the High Country Volleyball club team. During the 2001 summer Keister coached the Intermountain Youth High Performance Team, which competed in Europe.

From 1999-2001, Keister was the assistant coach at Highland High School in Salt Lake City. He helped guide the Rams to a second-place finish at the 2000 4A State Championships.

The Evansville, Ind. native played for the Ricks College men's volleyball club team in 1998 and '99 as an outside hitter. The team took fifth-place in the nation during Keister's first season.

Keister goes by the nickname "Scooter." He holds an associates degree in education from Ricks College and is currently pursuing a business degree at the U. Away from the court, Keister enjoys watching Nascar racing, playing basketball and spending time in the outdoors.

VOLLEYBALL SUPPORT SERVICES

Strength & Conditioning

The Ute volleyball team benefits from a certified strength and conditioning program. They train in the Dee Glen Smith Center's 7,500-square foot, glass enclosed strength and conditioning facility using programs designed by director of strength and conditioning Jason Veltkamp, MS CSCS.

Veltkamp, in his fourth year on the Ute staff, is the Utah state director of the National Strength and Conditioning Association, a certified club coach by USA Weightlifting and an NSCA certified specialist.

Veltkamp oversees a staff of five, all of whom are certified club coaches by U.S.A. Weightlifting. Full-time assistants are Scott Croft, Justin Taylor and Jon Webster. Marshall Harding and Val Shumway are interns. Croft manages the daily strength and conditioning care for the Utah volleyball team. Croft is a 1995 graduate of Central Missouri State University.

Sports Medicine

Utah volleyball enjoys a partnership with a veteran sports medicine team, headed by orthopedic surgeon Dr. Bob Burks and family practitioner Dr. Liz Joy. Burks, the head team physician for the University of Utah athletics department, has been its orthopedic surgeon since 1998. He also directs the University of Utah Sports Medicine Center at Red Butte Clinic and is an associate professor of orthopedic surgery at the U. Dr. Joy, a former collegiate athlete herself (she lettered in volleyball and track at Minnesota), is in her seventh year as Utah's team physician. She also practices family and sports medicine at the University of Utah Family Health Center. Joy is chairperson of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine.

The Utes also utilize a nationally recognized sport psychologist. Dr. Keith Henschen, a professor in Utah's College of Health, in his 25th year with the Utah athletics department. His other experience includes chairing the USGF Sport Psychology Committee and working at the Olympic level with two other national governing bodies.

The Utes' nutritional care is under the charge of sports nutrition consultant Claudia Wilson, now in her fifth year with the volleyball team. Wilson, MS, RD, who is also a clinical dietician for the University of Utah Nutrition Clinic, specializes in sports nutrition, female athlete triad disorders and eating disorders. She is a member of the American Dietetics Association and Sports and Cardiovascular and Wellness Nutritionists (SCAN), an ADA practice group.

The daily physical care of the Utes is handled by the sports medicine staff. Abby Bennion is in her first year at the U. as a graduate assistant volleyball trainer. She received her bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science from the U. in 1999. Bennion is currently working towards her master's in ESS with an emphasis in exercise physiology.

The entire sports medicine staff is overseen by director Bill Bean and associate director Deb Willardson. They both have over 25 years of experience at the University of Utah. The three other full-time assistants on staff in the sports medicine department are Tom Iriye, Trevor Jameson and Bob Toth.

Academics/Career Counseling

Mary Bowman, an assistant athletics director and Utah's director of student-athlete support services, oversees academic advising, career counseling and the NCAA LifeSkills program. The academic advising staff includes Chris Reilly, director of academic services; Rob Rainey, assistant director; and JoAnn Hulbert-Eagan, academic advisor/learning specialist. The staff operates from the 10,000 square foot Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics-Academics Center, which is designated solely for Utah's varsity student-athletes.

Rainey, in his 10th year at Utah, is the advisor for the Ute women's volleyball team. He holds master's degrees in elementary education from Wilkes (1988) and counselor education from Penn State (1990).

Manny Hendrix, a former starter for the Dallas Cowboys, is in his eighth year as Utah's director of athletic relations. Hendrix, who played basketball at the U. as an undergraduate, now assists student-athletes in career planning. He also runs the Partnering with U. program, which provides internships and summer jobs.

DR. CHRIS HILL

Athletics Director/ Special Assistant to the President

Dr. Chris Hill, Utah's director of athletics and special assistant to the president of the University of Utah, has carried Utah athletics into national prominence in the last 14 years. Hill was just 37 years old when he was named director of athletics back in October of 1987.

His vision reaches beyond the athletics department. Since 1998, he has been the special assistant to U. president Dr. Bernie Machen and a member of the University's senior administrative cabinet. On a national level, Hill was the NCAA appointed chairman of the powerful Championships/Competition Cabinet from 1997-98. He now serves as the Mountain West Conference representative on the NCAA Management Council and is on the Management Council's administrative committee. He was also chair of the transition committee for the Mountain West Conference.

But his biggest strides have come on campus, where his tenure has been charged with capital improvements, an emphasis on student-athlete support, academics, and winning programs. In the March 18 issue of U.S. News and World Report, Utah was ranked among the top 20 athletics programs in the nation, based on winning percentage, graduation rate, number of sports and gender equity.

Hill is the driving force behind Utah's athletics success and its numerous national-caliber facilities (please see insets). His fund-raising efforts reached an international stage when beautiful $50 million Rice-Eccles Stadium hosted the Opening and Closing Ceremonies for the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games. (See inset for a complete list of facilities built during Hill's term). Also close to Hill's heart is the new, high tech Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center. Opened in March 2001, the Burbidge Center offers unparalleled academic opportunities for the U.'s varsity student-athletes.

On the playing field, Utah is a conference and even national power under Hill's leadership. One of the many highlights was the men's basketball team making the 1998 NCAA Final Four and playing Kentucky in the championship game. Utah has also captured multiple national championships in gymnastics and skiing since he became director of athletics, and the football team has appeared in six bowl games. Utah teams won the "big three" championships–football and men's and women's basketball–in the inaugural year of the Mountain West Conference in 1999-2000.

Hill positioned himself for the top athletics job after two highly successful years as the director of development for the Crimson Club. The New Jersey native first came to the U. as a graduate assistant basketball coach (1973-74) under Bill Foster. He was an assistant under Jerry Pimm from 1979-81.

Between his coaching and administrative stints with Utah athletics, Hill was executive director of United Cerebral Palsy of Utah (1981-85), where he raised $750,000 in federal, state and private funding for a housing project for people with severe physical disabilities.

Among his many awards are a 1981 Milton Bennion Fellowship, 1984 Utah Recreation Therapy Association Outstanding Service award and 1996 Utah MS Sportsperson of the Year award. He was a 1998 Inductee into the Jersey Shore Hall of Fame. Hill currently serves on the Regence BlueCross BlueShield Board of Directors. In 2001, the National Consortium for Academics and Sports gave him its Degree Completion and Outreach and Community Service Honor Award.

As an undergraduate, Hill lettered three years and was co-captain of the 1971-72 Rutgers basketball team. His bachelor's degree from Rutgers is in math education (1972). He also has a master's in education (Utah, 1974), and a Ph.D. in educational administration (Utah, 1982). Hill taught in the University's special education department from 1983-85. He coached boys basketball at Granger High (Utah) from 1975-79, winning 4A coach of the year his first year.

Hill, 52, is married to the former Kathy Cronin, a clinical instructor in the U. department of special education. They have two children: Aly and Christopher. Aly, who is married to former Ute skier Ryan Forsyth, played soccer for the University of Oregon and received her master's of social work degree from Utah in 2002. Christopher is a junior at the University of Utah.

Amy Hackett

Associate Athletics Director

Amy Hackett, an 18-year veteran of athletic administration, is in her sixth year as associate athletics director at the University of Utah.

Hackett came to Utah in the summer of 1996 from Santa Clara University, where she served as associate athletics director and senior woman administrator from 1990-96, and was the acting director of athletics in the summer of 1992. She held the position of Broncos' assistant athletics director for marketing and promotions from 1986-90. At Utah, Hackett is responsible for nine of Utah's 19 sports. She also oversees the business office and events coordinating areas. She, along with Utah Athletics Director Dr. Chris Hill, represents the U. at Mountain West Conference and NCAA meetings.

Hackett has served on the NCAA's Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee since 2000. She served on the NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Committee from 1993-99 and was the committee chair from 1998-99. Hackett was an at-large representative of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Executive Committee.

At Santa Clara, Hackett was involved in virtually all of the areas she now oversees at the U. She was also director of the West Coast Conference Men's and Women's Basketball Tournament: the men's in 1991 and from 1994-96, and women's from 1992-96. She served on the Advisory Task Force on Women's Issues from 1992-95.

Hackett was the ticket manager for the Nashville Sounds AA Baseball Club in 1983 and 1984, and was a marketing assistant at the University of Virginia in 1986. Hackett graduated from Oregon State in 1983 with a degree in physical education (athletic administration emphasis). She earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio in 1986. Hackett has a newborn son: Quinn.

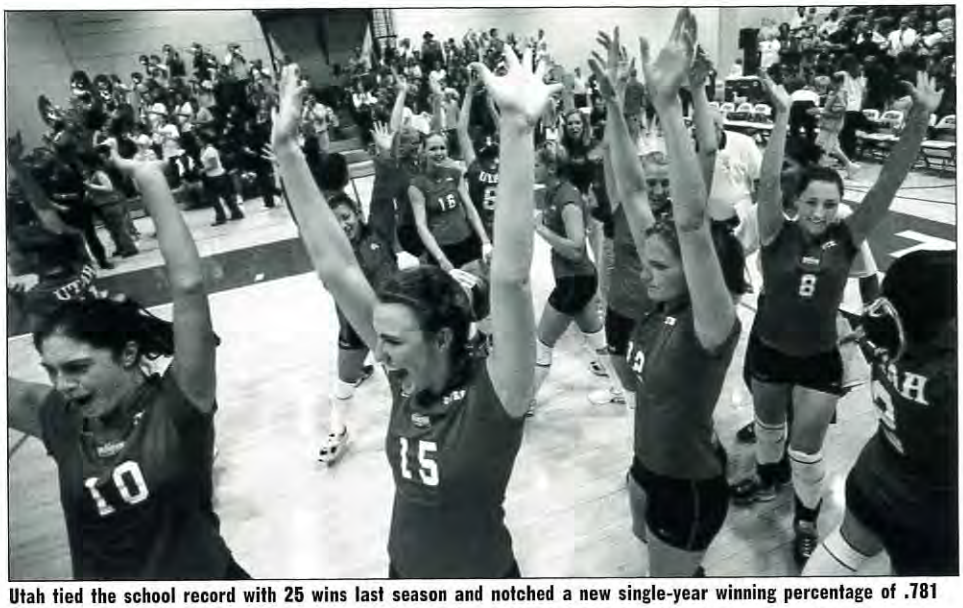
A Look Back At 2001

Utes break new ground on national landscape, win MWC Tournament and make NCAA Sweet 16.

Last year proved to be a season of milestones for the Utah volleyball program. Among the crowning achievements were a conference tournament championship, hosting the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament and a trip to the Sweet 16. Utah wrapped-up the year with a 25-7 overall record and an 11-3 mark in the Mountain West Conference to place second, the school's highest finish in league play all-time.

The Utes began the 2001 season with a No. 21 ranking in the USA Today/AVCA Poll. As the season progressed, Utah continued to rise in the polls and receive national attention. The Utes finished the season with a No. 15 ranking and an NCAA RPI of 18 out of 316 teams. Utah concluded the year with a 7-5 record against Top 25 opponents. Of the seven wins, two were against conference foe Colorado State. The Rams were ranked No. 6 and No. 8, respectively, when they fell to Utah at Crimson Court and in the conference tournament.

Utah's NCAA Tournament run ended with a four-game loss to eventual NCAA champion Stanford on its home court in the Sweet 16. Utah was the only team to take a game from the Cardinal in the entire tournament. The match marked the Utes' first-ever appearance in the regional semifinals.



Utah tied the school record with 25 wins last season and notched a new single-year winning percentage of .781

An undefeated home record topped off a historic season for the Utes.

Another first for Utah was the chance to host the NCAA first and second rounds. The Utes entertained Utah State, Brigham Young and Texas Tech. Utah notched its first win with a three-game sweep of Texas Tech. Then in the second round, the Utes pushed past Utah State 3-1.

The two wins at Crimson Court in the first and second rounds capped another first for Utah, as the team went undefeated with a 15-0 record on its home court. "It says a lot about a team to not yield a loss on your own court, especially when you are facing ranked opponents," said Head Coach Beth Launiere.

The Utes' 25 wins tied the highest total in school history (1993's team went 25-11), while the overall winning percentage of .781 equaled the best in school history. Utah also finished with its top conference winning percentage (.786) of the modern era.

As the conference season came to an end, the Utes found themselves in the championship game of the MWC Tournament. Down 2-0, Utah rallied to knock-off regular-season champ Colorado State 3-2 to win the tournament. Kim Turner earned tournament MVP honors, while Sylva Strzinková and Adrianne Bradley-Drake were named to the all-tournament team.

Turner received numerous other accolades for her season's effort. The middle blocker was named to the all-conference team for the second straight year and was named an honorable mention All-American by Volleyball Magazine. Turner ranked 18th in the nation and second in the league in blocks (1.55 bpg). The Arizona native also ranked fourth in the MWC with a .366 hitting percentage. Turner ascended the Ute career charts to first in hitting percentage (.321), seventh in block assists (276) and eighth in total blocks (305).

Strzinková was another key player for Utah. She led the MWC in digs (3.14 dpg) and posted her league-best 14th double-double (13 kills and 13 digs) of the year against CSU in the MWC Championship game. In her first season at Utah, Strzinková received all-conference honors and was voted to the Arizona all-tournament team.

McKelle Stilson concluded her career as the all-time leader in career blocks (497) and block assists (449). Stilson also ranks third in career kills (1,283) and fourth in hitting efficiency (.290).

In addition to the players, Launiere also was honored. After leading the Utes to their first tournament title in school history and a trip to the Sweet 16, Launiere was named the 2001 Tachikara/AVCA Division I West Region Coach of the Year. The season built Launiere's record to 228-153 in 12 years at the U.

"We set a goal at the beginning of the season to make it to the Sweet 16," said Launiere. "To achieve that goal made the season a magical experience. The 2001 season was really a boost for our image in the national volleyball spotlight and a great sense of accomplishment."

NIVC Semifinalists / Steve Lowe Award 1993

On its way to placing third at the 1993 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, Utah earned the Steve Lowe Award, embodying competitive excellence, inspiration and fair play. The award is named in honor of the former head volleyball coach at Wisconsin, who guided the Badgers to the championship of the inaugural NIVC Tournament in 1989 and died of cancer in 1991.

UTAH AND THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

Utes make fourth straight NCAA postseason appearance.

During the past four years, the Utes have developed a rich history of success in the NCAA tournament. The team has participated in the NCAA tournament during each of the last four years, and the 2001 team concluded the season with a loss in the Sweet 16 to eventual national champion Stanford.

"Last year was such a magical season," Head Coach Beth Launaiere said. "Going to the Sweet 16 really helped our image as a national contender. Although we had gone to the second round of the tournament the three previous years, the Sweet 16 brought us national recognition that we hadn't received before."

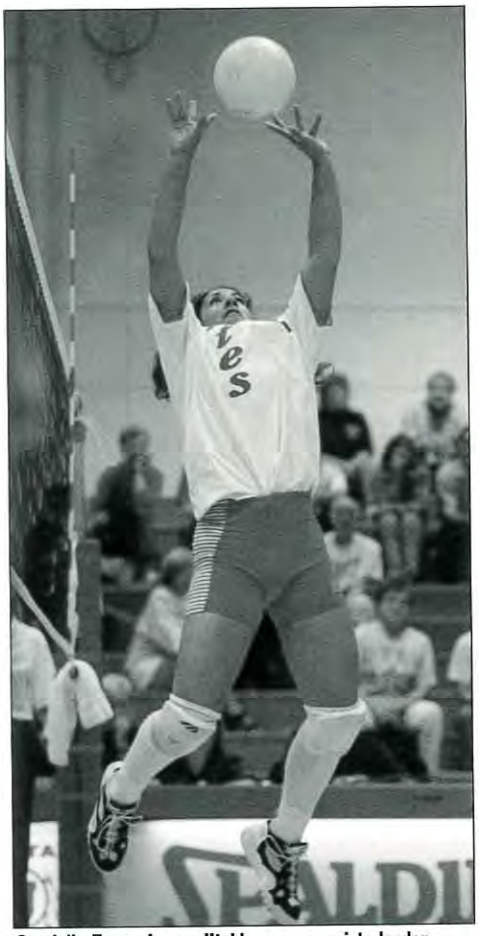
The Utes qualified for the NCAA tournament for the first time in 1998, receiving an at large bid as the eighth seed in the Pacific Region. Utah defeated ninth-seeded Illinois State in three games in the first round, then lost to top-seeded Nebraska in four games in the second round.

In 1999, Utah, seeded No. 9 in the Mountain Region, defeated eighth-seeded Colorado in three games in the first round and lost to top-seeded Hawaii in three games in the second round.

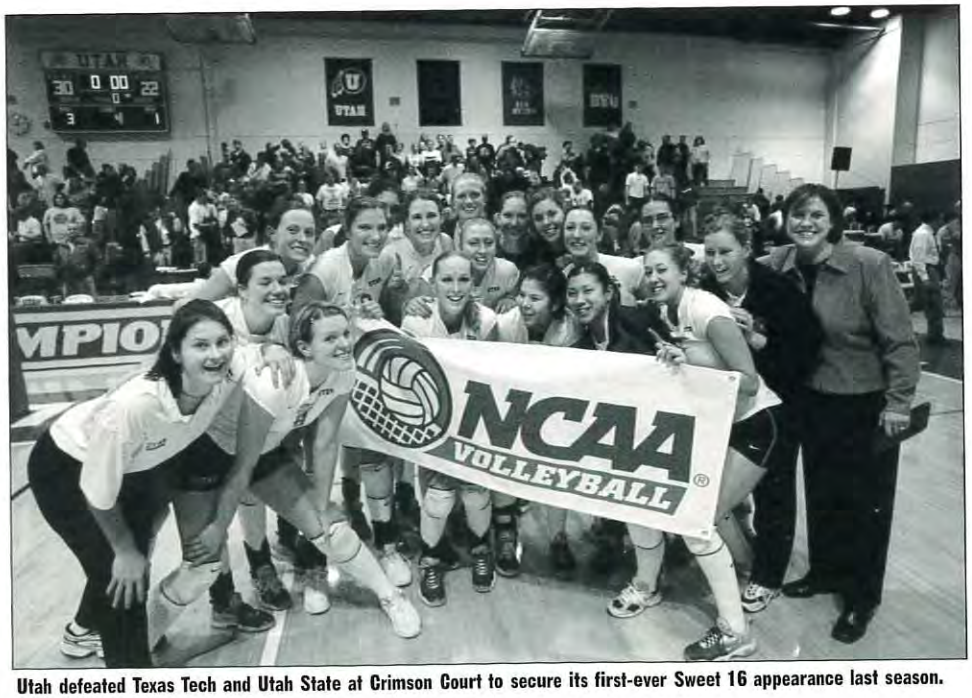
The following year, in 2000, the Utes were the No. 8 seed in the West Region and defeated Texas Tech, 3-2 in the first round the tourney. The team then lost to Hawaii, 3-0 in the second round.

The team's Sweet 16 appearance in 2001 was the first time in Utah volleyball history that a team had advanced to the regional semifinals. Launiere believes that her team's recent success is just the beginning.

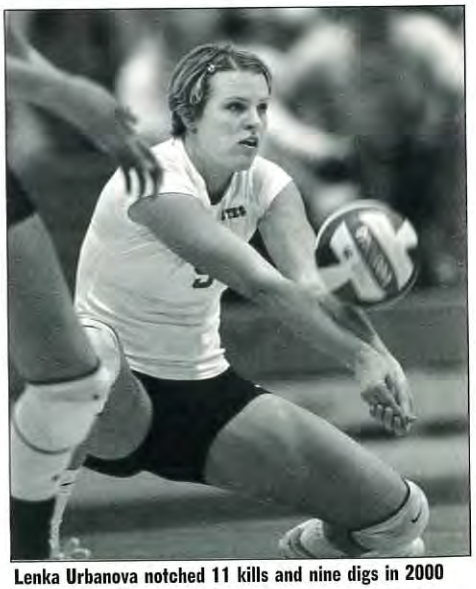
"Our first NCAA tournament appearance in 1998 legitimized our program and making it to the Sweet 16 last year completely solidified it," Launiere said. "While making it to the Sweet 16 was a definite sense of accomplishment, I think we can follow up with the same goals and accomplishments this year. We have the schedule and talent to have an even higher seed and go farther in 2002. If you get to the Sweet 16, anything can happen."



Graciella Torres-Lopez, Utah's career assists leader, posted 21 assists against Hawaii in 1999.



Utah defeated Texas Tech and Utah State at Crimson Court to secure its first-ever Sweet 16 appearance last season.



Lenka Urbanova notched 11 kills and nine digs in 2000 against Hawaii.

Mountain West Conference

Entering its fourth year, the MWC is emerging as one of the nation's top conferences.

The newest conference in the nation has quickly emerged as one of the best. The Mountain West Conference, which officially commenced operation on July 1, 1999, sent a record four teams to the 2001 NCAA Tournament and was one of just five conferences to have multiple teams in the Sweet 16 three straight years. Three MWC teams have been ranked in the final USA Today/AVCA Top 25 poll the past two years, and after producing 11 All-Americans in three seasons, the MWC will look to build on its volleyball tradition in 2002.

The Mountain West has been ranked sixth in the nation for volleyball attendance the past three years. The league's teams have also been tough to handle on their home courts. The past three years, Colorado State is 51-1 (.981) at Moby Arena, while the Utah is 33-6 (.846) at home, including a 25-2 mark the past two seasons. BYU has made it difficult for the opposition at Smith Fieldhouse, posting a 41-5 (.891) record the past three years.

The MWC was conceived on May 29, 1998 when eight teams announced they were breaking away from the Western Athletic Conference, which had grown to 16 schools. Those teams—Utah, Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV and Wyoming—would take the backbone of the WAC with them. Half were charter members of the WAC when it was founded in 1962: Utah, BYU, New Mexico and Wyoming. Colorado State (1967) and San Diego State (1978) both competed as WAC members for at least two decades, while Air Force (1980) was also a longstanding member. Only UNLV, which joined the WAC in its final expansion in 1996, was a newcomer.

The split from the former 16-team WAC signaled the end to an unwieldy nine-state, five-time zone conference. However, the Mountain West Conference has maintained its geographical diversity. Some of the most beautiful scenery in the nation can be found within Mountain West Conference boundaries, including the unparalleled Rocky Mountain range, which borders four MWC schools (Utah, BYU, Air Force and Colorado State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,000 feet) contrast with the desert city of Las Vegas (the fastest growing metropolitan area in the West), the balmy weather and Pacific Ocean locale of San Diego State and the southwestern flavor of New Mexico.

While the league is still young, its eight members have a long and storied athletic history. The University of Utah became a household name when its men's basketball team advanced all the way to the NCAA Championship game in 1998. In football, Utah, Air Force, BYU and Colorado State have all been ranked in the Top 25 in the last seven years. Six MWC volleyball teams have played in the NCAA Tournament at least twice in the last 11 years (Utah, BYU, CSU, New Mexico, San Diego State and Wyoming) and BYU has made the NCAA regional finals three times. UNLV won the 1998 NCAA men's golf championship. The Utah and UNLV softball teams have combined to make 13 NCAA Tournament and five College World Series trips since 1990.

In addition to the 19 MWC-sponsored sports, programs like Utah and BYU have national titles in non-league sports. The Utes have won 10 national championships apiece in women's gymnastics and skiing, while BYU has captured two NCAA men's volleyball championships.

The Mountain West Conference, an NCAA Division I member for all of its sports, is located in Colorado Springs, Colo., and is under the guidance of commissioner Craig Thompson.

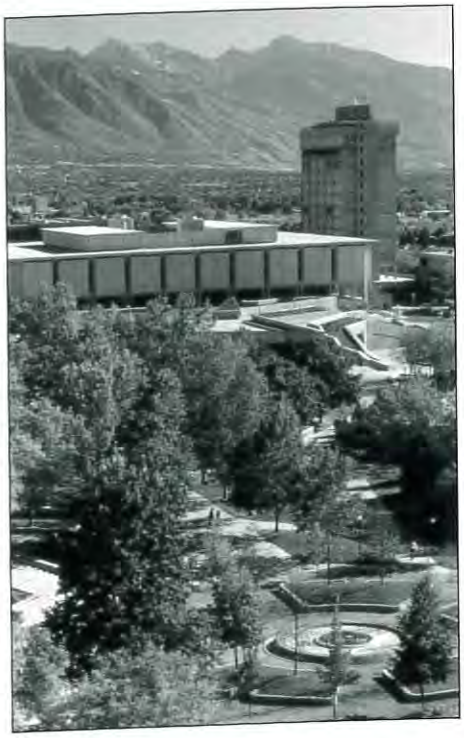
University of Utah

The U of U offers students the experience of a lifetime. The University has more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and sits on a 1,500-acre campus that is just a day's drive away from 11 national parks.

The University of Utah, a hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras, boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtakingly gorgeous location. To the east rise the 11,500 foot, snow-capped peaks of the Wasatch Mountains. To the west the Great Salt Lake shimmers beneath the Oquirrh Mountains. The sprawling 1,500-acre campus, nestled in the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains, is a beautiful collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways.

Already a lively community, the U. now offers an exciting on-campus living experience for its students. The 2000 freshman class was the first to reside in Heritage Commons, a multi-purpose student housing complex located in historic Fort Douglas on the eastern edge of campus. Last February, Heritage Commons served as the Athletes Village for the Olympic Winter Games, hosted by Salt Lake City.

In addition to a fine academic and campus life experience, Utah students enjoy unparalleled outdoor diversions, from skiing and snowboarding at any of eight world-class resorts in nearby canyons, to backpacking, mountain biking, fly fishing and river running.



The U.'s location in the largest city in the Intermountain West (population 1,333,914) also provides a metropolitan charm. The 36th largest metro area in the nation, Salt Lake is home to professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies, as well as the NBA's Utah Jazz, WNBA's Utah Starzz, Triple A baseball's Salt Lake Stingers and the AHL's Utah Grizzlies.

The University, which offers more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and 93 graduate majors, draws its 25,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 102 foreign countries. Ninety-five percent of Utah's faculty members hold the highest degree in their fields.

Founded in 1850, the U. has established itself as an international center for medical and engineering research. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 40 high-tech companies created by University faculty. The Huntsman Cancer Institute and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer. Utah is ranked in the top 35 (of 550) research universities in the most recent National Science Foundation rankings. Nationally, the U. is listed 19th in corporate funding for research.

Utah is also a hub in the computer world. The Center for High Performance Computing links the U. to major aerospace industries, high-tech manufacturers and research companies. The Department of Computer Science is ranked in the top 20 computer science research departments in the nation. The U. was named one of five finalists in the science category of the 1998 Computerworld Smithsonian Awards. Back in 1970, the U. became the fourth node on the Internet.

The annual issue of U.S. News & World Report ranked Utah as a second tier University in 2001, which places the U. somewhere between 52-115 among American colleges (rankings outside the top 50 are listed alphabetically). Only six schools in the Mountain West region made Tier 2: Utah, Arizona, Colorado, Colorado School of Mines, Denver and Brigham Young. According to the U.S. News data, Utah's 3.2 rating would place it No. 38 among public institutions.

U.S. News & World Report was also impressed with Utah's athletic department, placing the U. on its Honor Roll of College Sports along with 19 other schools. Utah is one of just three schools west of the Mississippi to make the list.

The University of Utah, one of the state's largest employers, generates some $500 million annually in non-tax revenue. It has the only medical, social work, architecture and pharmacy schools in a multi-state area. Its many top-flight facilities include a center for dance, a health sciences center, public radio and television stations, three libraries and numerous centers and laboratories devoted to research.

The U. provides a lot of fun, too. Over a million people enjoy the University of Utah's athletic, entertainment and cultural offerings each year. And Utah is known as a site of championships in the athletic arena, having served as host to a number of national tournaments, including the 1979 NCAA Basketball Final Four, eight National Women's Gymnastics Championships, three NCAA Ski Championships and two National Women's Tennis Championships.

ATHLETIC-ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Study Table
Required of all freshman athletes their first semester. Open to all athletes, regardless of year or GPA. Study table is offered at both the Burbidge Academics Center and the Heritage Commons Residence Halls.

Tutorial Program
Individual tutors for any class free of charge.

Testing Center
Offers student-athletes information on possible career choices through the Strong Interest Inventory given to all freshmen in the Life Skills class.

Internships
The "Partnering with U." program offers career mentoring, shadowing and internship opportunities with area businesses.

Fifth-Year Senior Program
Provides financial assistance to those no longer on athletic scholarship (have finished their four-year athletic career), but who wish to get their degrees.

Summer School
Financial aid for summer school is available to Ute volleyball players who meet the criteria.

Priority Registration
U. student-athletes are permitted to register for classes before the rest of the student body.

Volleyball Smarts
The Utah women's volleyball team placed a league-high eight student-athletes on the 2001 academic all-Mountain West Conference team. During the spring semester, the Utes had 11 players make the honor roll, while five players received further distinction by being named to the Dean's List. As a team, Utah had a combined 3.39 GPA for the 2002 spring semester.

ACADEMICS

Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center

The student in "student-athlete" got a big boost in March of 2001, when the stunning new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center opened on the U. campus. Designed solely to serve the U.'s varsity student-athletes, the Burbidge Center is without peer in terms of aesthetics, technology and academic service.

The 10,000-square-foot facility is already a campus landmark, with its sweeping floor to ceiling, curved glass wall on the two-story north side. Its location is ideal for the population it serves: Situated between the U. Natatorium and the Huntsman Center, the Burbidge Center is central to Utah's classrooms and athletic venues.

The full-service academic facility, utilized by all 19 varsity Utah athletic teams, was underwritten by a generous $2 million gift from the Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. family. The center consolidated Utah's athletic-academic efforts, both in terms of computer labs and study space, and academic counseling. The upper level also provides a social gathering place for the student-athletes.

The mission of the Burbidge Family Athletics Academic Center is to provide an integrated learning environment that will enhance the academic and personal development of all student-athletes. The objective is to accommodate the diverse needs and schedules of Utah's student-athletes through a wide range of individual and group support services, computer technologies and independent study opportunities.

BURBIDGE CENTER FACTS
- 10,000 square feet of space
- Lab with 25 computers
- Student-Athlete Lounge with pop-in email computers

On-Campus Living

Heritage Commons

There's a new style of living at the University of Utah, which became a true residential campus in the fall of 2000 when students moved into the beautiful new Heritage Commons. The living-learning community is the heart of campus activity and exudes a vibrant, energetic "college town" atmosphere.

Situated in historic Fort Douglas at the mouth of Red Butte Canyon, and located on 70 acres of land, the expansive 912,000 square foot residential complex boasts incredible views of Salt Lake City and the surrounding mountain ranges.

Heritage Commons received worldwide acclaim last winter when it served as the Athletes Village during the XIX Olympic Winter and Paralympic Games, hosted by Salt Lake City. Some 3,500 athletes and officials called Heritage Commons home during that time. After the Games, Heritage Commons reverted to its intended role as a student residential center.

Heritage Commons consists of 21 buildings–20 residential and one for dining and support services. Eight of the buildings are apartment style, with 235 one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments. The residence halls are spread out over 12 buildings and have a total of 1,515 beds. A maximum of four students share a bathroom and each bedroom has independent heating and air conditioning units.

First-year students live in Gateway Heights, a hall with furnished, double semi-suites, an advanced telecommunications system (voice, video and data), an ethernet connection to the U. student computer system, cable TV connections, a large community lounge, study rooms and indoor bike storage. Each floor has a kitchenette.

Chapel Glen is home to both first year students and upperclassmen and offers the same amenities as Gateway Heights, as well as a fitness area. Sage Point is reserved for upper division students and has single, double and deluxe suites. Sage Point also has computer and technology labs and an international area. The U.T.E. program is housed in Chapel Glen and Sage Point. An acronym for Undergraduate Tradition of Excellence Program, its goal is to broaden students' appreciation for tolerating various lifestyles, cultures, attitudes and values.

Benchmark Plaza is an apartment complex allocated for single students who have earned 60-plus credit hours. Shoreline Ridge, which offers both furnished and unfurnished apartment units, is reserved for students with families and single graduate students.

The Chase N. Peterson Heritage Center, open 24 hours a day, seven days a week during peak demand periods, is the hub of activity in the student-housing village. It contains a central dining facility that seats 600, a convenience store, computer and technology labs, fitness and game rooms, four multipurpose rooms, a mail center and more.

Alongside the residence halls and apartments is a University Bookstore branch, University Copy Center and the University Guest House (an on-campus hotel).

Transportation is another benefit of Heritage Commons. A valid U of U parking permit allows residents to park close to their hall. Free shuttles run five routes every 10 minutes and the Utah Transit Authority and light rail (TRAX) combine to traverse 21 routes to and from campus. The residence halls are also easily accessible to main campus by foot and are connected via the state-of-the-art George S. Eccles 2002 Legacy Bridge.

Ute Athletic Facilities

In addition to playing at Crimson Court, the Utah volleyball team enjoys the finest strength, rehabilitation and training equipment available in the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center.

Crimson Court

Located in HPER East-101 (directly north of the Jon M. Huntsman Center), Crimson Court provides a great atmosphere for Utah volleyball. In 1993, after the Utes set a new season attendance total of more than 8,200 fans, Crimson Court was renovated.

The rebuilding process included a $165,000 renovation, as the seating was expanded from 600 to 1,500 with new telescopic plate seats around the entire court. To utilize the full facility, the court direction was rotated 90 degrees and centered within the gymnasium. Also, a new sound system was installed and the floor was refinished with new graphics.

The court was officially dedicated on Sept. 9, 1994. It was christened by both a win over Montana State and a marathon five-game victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic. In six years at Crimson Court, the Utes have recorded a 77-23 record and a .770 winning percentage.

The largest crowd ever recorded at Crimson Court consisted of 1,573 fans, assembled to watch Utah battle in-state rival Brigham Young on Nov. 14, 1997. Last season, 12,020 fans watched the Utes over the course of 15 games for an average of 801 fans per game. The largest crowd included 1,571 fans gathered to watch Utah oust Brigham Young in a five-game battle.

The Utah volleyball team trains in the 7,500 square foot weight room located in the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center. Enclosed by glass, the view from the weight room is of the Wasatch Mountain Range to the east and the Oquirrh Mountains to the west.

The weight room is equipped with 12 Olympic platforms, each with its own self-contained power rack/multi-purpose lifting station.

SALT LAKE CITY

Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions.

Salt Lake City, home to the University of Utah, is one of the most beautiful and vibrant cities in America. Its location between two magnificent mountain ranges and a booming economy made Salt Lake City the natural choice to host the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

Salt Lake City beckons major events like the Olympics with its beauty, location, economic strength, cultural and recreational opportunities and accessibility to the world. Money Magazine agreed, naming Salt Lake the West's most livable city in its December 2000 issue.

Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions. To the east are the 11,500-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountains ("mountains of many waters," as named by the Paiute Indians), the western-most Rocky Mountain range. To the west soar the Oquirrh Mountains (pronounced Oaker and meaning "the shining mountains"). In between is the Great Salt Lake, also known as America's Dead Sea. It is the world's second largest saltwater lake and is nine times saltier than an ocean.

Salt Lake's economy matches its natural wonders in impressiveness. City and State magazine, which is published for local government officials, ranked Salt Lake No. 1 among 195 cities in terms of economic strength. With a metropolitan population of 1,333,914, Salt Lake is the financial, educational, distribution, warehousing, commercial, cultural and communications hub of the Intermountain region. It is also center to world-renowned medical and technological industries. Of the 50 states, Utah has the second-largest concentration of computer software firms, one of the four largest concentrations of biomedical firms and 450 high tech firms employing 13,000 people.

Tourism is also a big employer. Skiing is a $500 million annual industry in Utah and most of those dollars are generated in the Salt Lake area. The 2002 Winter Olympics added millions of dollars to an already burgeoning Salt Lake economy. Seven world-class ski resorts are located within 30 minutes of Salt Lake International Airport and downtown Salt Lake, with four more less than an hour's drive away.

Cultural activities also flourish in Salt Lake City. The area enjoys a broad base of cultural, ethnic and religious diversity. Salt Lake has more professional dance companies than any city other than New York City and also boasts professional symphony, opera and theater. Fifteen art galleries are located in the downtown area. Hispanic, Native American and Asian/Pacific residents have higher numbers than the national average in Salt Lake City, while the African-American community is vibrant and growing.

Professional sports are big in Salt Lake City, with a National Basketball Association franchise (the Utah Jazz), a Women's NBA team (the Utah Starzz), Triple A baseball (the Salt Lake Stingers) and AHL hockey (the Utah Grizzlies).

Recreational opportunities abound, with 11 national parks less than a day's drive from Salt Lake City. Fly fishing, backpacking, mountain biking and river running are a part of life in Salt Lake City. LIFE Magazine has ranked Salt Lake City one of the top vacation getaways in the country. With four distinct seasons, a humidity average of 15 percent and mostly sunny days, Salt Lake offers pleasant weather conditions year round.

Salt Lake City's charms are easily accessible even to those from out of state. Salt Lake International Airport, the 25th busiest in the United States, is less than three hours flying time from half the population of the U.S. There are more than 500 daily arrivals and departures and eight major airlines operate from the airport. It is closer to the heart of the city it serves than any other major airport in the United States.

"Utah volleyball has positioned itself as one of the top programs in the nation, on and off the court. We take pride in our student-athletes not only maintaining a balance between academics and athletics, but also developing as people and leaders. The level of success the Utes have experienced shows that we have gained the consistency and stability needed to be considered one of the nation's elite programs."
